Use:

The studio is initially intended as a dance rehearsal room for performing companies. However, this is only based on availability. Booking in advance (for the days of performing in the theatre) is recommended if you want certainty about the possibilities.

The dance studio is (if possible) automatically reserved for dance schools that rent the middle room for their performance (logistically highly desirable).

The dance studio is also used as a space for activities organized by the theatre itself (workshops, meet & greet etc.). Reservations are necessary.

The focus (necessity) is guidance from the public area to the backstage area and vice versa with permanent supervision during the activity.

The dance studio is not rented separately or made available to external relations without management's permission if they do not have a performance in the theatre at that time (i.e.m. security aspects).
